

Biographies for Lawyers Representing Plaintiffs in Franklin Savage, et al. v. Pocomoke City et al.

Dennis A. Corkery is a senior staff attorney at the Washington Lawyers' Committee. During law school, Mr. Corkery interned at the Servicemembers Legal Defense Network where he worked with LGBT members of the Armed Forces during the repeal process of "Don't Ask, Don't Tell." Mr. Corkery also held internships with United States District Judge Nathaniel Gorton in Boston and the Civil Division of the District of Columbia's United States' Attorney's Office. As an undergraduate, Mr. Corkery helped found the University of Chicago's chapter of the National Organization for Women and worked with the administration to create the University's first sexual assault disciplinary policy. In 2015, he was named "One of the Best LGBT Lawyers Under the Age of 40" by the National LGBT Bar Association. He has a J.D., with high honors, from The George Washington University Law School and a B.A. from University of Chicago. Mr. Corkery can be reached at 202-319-1000 (ext. 120) or dennis_corkery@washlaw.org.

Deborah A. Jeon, Legal Director of the ACLU of Maryland, has general oversight over the organization's legal program, as well as large-scale litigation to promote racial justice, such as voting rights cases and lawsuits to combat police racial profiling. Ms. Jeon has worked for the ACLU of Maryland for 25 years—the first 15 of those years were spent working exclusively on Maryland's Eastern Shore. She is a graduate of Yale Law School with an undergraduate degree from Cornell University. Ms. Jeon can be reached at 410.889.8555 or jeon@aclu-md.org.

Andrew G. McBride, partner and chair of Wiley Rein LLP's Communications Appellate & Litigation Practice, has more than 25 years of experience as a public and private litigator. Mr. McBride is a former law clerk to Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor and served 10 years in the Department of Justice, including seven as an Assistant U.S. Attorney in the "Rocket Docket" in the Eastern District of Virginia. He specializes in legal issues surrounding wireless technologies, the Internet, and all forms of new media, including copyright, patent, federal preemption defenses, class action defense, enforcement of arbitration clauses, and First Amendment protection for commercial speech. He received a J.D., with distinction, from Stanford Law School, Order of the Coif. He obtained a B.A., magna cum laude, from the College of the Holy Cross, where he was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Mr. McBride can be reached at 202.719.7135 or amcbride@wileyrein.com.